THE LATE FAIR AND WHAT WAS TO B Of the recent Fair here, I cannot state in detail the number of entries made in the different departments. But it is safe o say that, as large and fine a display of fine horses, fine cattle, fine sheep, fine horses, fine cattle, fine sheep, fine hogs and poultry has not been on exhibition in this place for the past ten years. The number of people in attendance was variously estimated at from eight to ten thousand. The hall, which is large and commodions was literally filled with commodious, was literally filled with farm products, domestic manufacture and mechanical designs. There were vegetables of all kinds too numerous to nention; grain of all kinds, butter an cheese, truit, green, canned and dried of all kinds—all kinds of needle work o ancient or modern lanev; a very large and fine display of mechanism which was the largest and finest display of harness work ever had in Geauga County, by Mr. Farshe, who knows just now it is done. The hall was decorated with evergreens and flowers in the most becoming manner by the tasty hands of the ladies of Burton, and as one crowded his way through the throng and hall he could not help but hum to himself, "I would not live always." JEFFERSON, O. MANHOOD: How Lost, How Restored. JUST PUBLISHED, A NEW EDITION of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravarance, etc.

Fits, induced by self-includgence or sexual extravagance, etc.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land. Sent free, under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address. Address the Publishers,
